

The Guide to Nawafil Salah

Voluntary prayers you can do any day to earn extra rewards from Allah (SWT) and become closer to him.

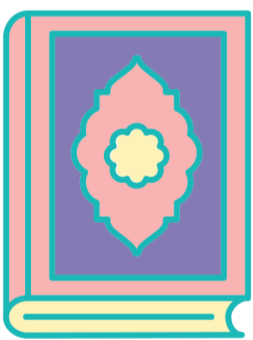

Tahajjud

Tahajjud is the most rewarding salah. It is best performed in the last third of the night, before sunrise, after waking up from your sleep. If you feel like you cannot wake up during that time, you can perform it after Isha before Witr salah.

Ishraq

Salatul Ishraq is best performed 15 minutes after sunrise, but you can pray it anytime from then until just before midday. It can be prayed in 2 or 4 rakat.

Duha

Duha is performed in the second half of the morning, towards midday. The minimum number of rakat for Duha is 2 and the maximum is 12.

Tahiyatul Wudu

It is encouraged to perform Tahiyatul Wudu after making wudu.

Tahiyatul Masjid

Tahiyatul Masjid refers to the two rakats which should be performed upon entering a masjid, unless it is a time when it is makruh to perform salah.
